This issue of the magazine will be a special edition published for Sustainable Energy week (EUSEW).

The event, organised by EASME on behalf of the European Commission's Directorate for Energy, will take place in Brussels on 4-8 June.

As one of the official publications for EUSEW, copies of the magazine will be widely distributed at the event.

The editorial theme will focus on "Energy Efficiency" with articles on new technologies, and viewpoints from Industry, Members of the European Parliament and Commission officials.

We will cover a wide range of topics, ranging from smart cities, building efficiency, smart grids, energy storage and ICT to smart metering and transport decarbonisation.
